Ten years ago, Tanisha Bansal dared to dream differently. Her vision? To forge a new path in luxury interior design, where innovation reigns supreme. Today, Interiors by Tanisha Bansal stands as a testament to that dream, a brand synonymous with captivating spaces that push the boundaries and redefine what luxury truly means. Instead of attending college, 16-year-old Tanisha Bansal, from Chembur, took a bold leap and started her own company. Initially tackling small projects, she quickly discovered her passion for entrepreneurship. Despite facing difficulties after turning 18, she persevered and built a successful firm, proving that her decision at 16 was the right choice.

Diving into design with no family connections, 16-year-old Tanisha tackled major projects armed with sheer grit and practical knowledge. While balancing work and studies, she pulled off impressive projects like a stunning bungalow. From tiny apartments to modern bathrooms, she clocked 20 projects in just three years, launching the climb despite financial constraints. With a staggering 75+ projects under her belt, Tanisha Bansal has established a name for herself. Her keen eye for detail, infectious design passion, and dedication to exceeding client dreams translate into a powerful portfolio that speaks volumes about her talent and dedication.

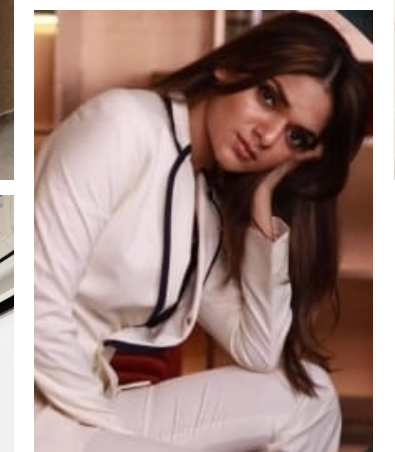

“Eight years of relentless effort bore fruit as I accumulated enough savings to realize a dream—a splendid studio. Prior to this, I didn’t even have a cabin,” states Bansal. More than aesthetics, the firm crafts experiences. They prioritise understanding each client’s individual personality and aspirations, weaving them into spaces that truly resonate. Their diverse portfolio, spanning luxurious homes to vibrant restaurants, reflects this commitment to personalised design. “The realisation dawned that respect emanates from within, requiring a delicate balance,” Bansal expresses. The company transcends client relationships, fostering a culture of deep respect for the team and itself. It emphasises self-worth, professionalism, and maintaining a balanced composure. Recognising the importance of mutual respect, they believe in recognizing each individual’s value and nurturing a harmonious and collaborative work environment.

Her vision extended beyond just leading a business. Cultivating a dynamic and positive workplace took centre stage. This meant fostering a lively and inspiring office environment, embracing a healthy work-life balance, and empowering her team to build strong client relationships. Starting with a blank slate, she handpicked a diverse team who shared her values, ensuring the company’s spirit remained true to its core vision. Marriage, a recent chapter, brought gratitude for a life partner without altering her fiercely independent lifestyle. Despite societal expectations, her identity and opinions remain unchanged. “I emphasise that marriage should not dictate personal choices or an independent lifestyle. The unwavering support of key figures, especially my father, has been instrumental in my journey. He provided the wings, and my husband continues to be the ever-reliable wind beneath them,” ends the designer.

Interiors by Tanisha Bansal has transcended its beginnings, becoming more than just a design firm. It is a space where client dreams are realized, a team thrives under mutual respect and empowerment, and innovation pushes the boundaries of the design industry. From luxurious homes to bustling restaurants, their diverse portfolio reflects a commitment to individuality and exceptional quality, leaving a lasting impact on all they touch.

“With a remarkable team, I value the smart and self-assured younger generation, fostering an open, honest work culture. Shared success is a belief, and as the company grows, so does the team,” states Tanisha

“Recognizing the distinction between being a designer and managing a business is crucial. I have successfully navigated both realms, but understanding my humble beginnings is equally important,” states the designer.
